

Down syndrome: the immune system and vaccination

Hi,

Dean is my name, I'm a paediatric specialist registrar currently doing research looking at the immune system in children with Down syndrome. This survey is the first part of an education campaign surrounding vaccination in children with Down syndrome, where I hope to raise awareness for these children. Firstly, I want to establish the level of understanding of parents and families regarding vaccination and the immune system. Therefore, I would be grateful if you could complete the short survey via the link, it will take approximately 3 minutes to complete.

Once I have the survey results I will write an article in the newsletter highlighting the results and our recommendations regarding vaccination for children with Down syndrome.

Many thanks,

Dean
